

Summery profile

I am a hardworking individual who is motivated and shows enthusiasm towards completing a task with the greatest ability. I also have a genuine desire to help people due to this I have expertise in communication which was gained from at a charity call centre, with this skill I will be able to comfortably work alongside my team. Alongside communication, team work is also a flair due to me taking part in an fundraising organisation where I and a few colleagues had to work tightly as a team in order to be successful
